In this issue, we're sharing the main highlights from an unforgettable month. These stories show what makes UTE such a special place. Once you become part of the UTE community, you'll discover a world of experiences, connections, and opportunities that can't be captured in words. Step inside, and you'll see what makes UTE more than a university—it's a journey for success.

WELCOME TO YOUR FIRST DAY OF CLASS —UTE COHORT II (27 OCTOBER 2025)

The air was filled with excitement and anticipation as UTE officially welcomed Cohort II to campus. The first day of class is always unforgettable with a blend of nerves, laughter, and dreams coming to life. For many, it was the realization that months of preparation and hard work had finally paid off.

Students were warmly greeted by faculty and peers from the first batch (Cohort I) as they took their first steps into a vibrant academic community that values growth, creativity, and collaboration. The atmosphere was alive with positivity and purpose, reflecting what awaits them throughout their studies.

At UTE, the first day isn't just about new schedules or classrooms; it's about new beginnings, new perspectives, and the promise of a future shaped by learning and friendship.

UTE ORIENTATION DAY - COHORT II (24 OCTOBER 2025)

Just days before the start of classes, UTE hosted a truly memorable Orientation Day for Cohort II, welcoming new students to the UTE family. The event was filled with emotion, excitement, and a strong sense of belonging as the newest members of our academic community took their first collective steps into university life.

Students had the chance to meet faculty, connect with classmates, and immerse themselves in the spirit of UTE through engaging sessions and inspiring speeches. But the highlight of the day came when every student stood together to take the Pledge to RISE—a commitment to be Responsible, Innovative, Sustainable, and Excellent, the core values that define the UTE spirit.

As each student vowed to uphold these principles and honor the university's code of conduct, they were proudly awarded the RISE badge—a symbol of identity, pride, and purpose. The ceremony reached its emotional peak when Professor Chum Chandarin, the university president, struck the ceremonial gong three times, marking the official beginning of their academic journey. The resonating sound echoed through the hall, reminding everyone that their story at UTE had just begun.

Orientation Day was more than an introduction; it was a moment of transformation, uniting students under a shared mission to rise, learn, and lead.

INTRODUCING THE UTE STUDENT SENATE FACEBOOK PAGE

Another exciting milestone this month was the launch of the official UTE Student Senate Facebook page. The Student Senate is the heart of student leadership at UTE—a space where voices are heard, ideas are nurtured, and change begins.

The new page will serve as a hub for campus news, event updates, and opportunities for student involvement. It encourages active participation, ensuring that every UTE student has the chance to contribute to a vibrant and inclusive community.

By establishing the Senate’s online presence, UTE reinforces its belief that leadership is not just about position but about service, communication, and collaboration.

UTE OPEN HOUSE RECAP (3 OCTOBER 2025)

The month opened with the much-anticipated UTE Open House, where prospective students, parents, and guests experienced the university's culture and learning environment firsthand. The event featured guided campus tours, interactive sessions, and inspiring discussions with faculty and students.

Visitors had the chance to explore UTE's modern facilities, learn about its forward-thinking academic programs, and gain insights into scholarship opportunities. The day ended with smiles, photos, and heartfelt words of appreciation from participants who left feeling inspired and connected.

It was more than just an open day—it was an open door to the future. And for many attendees, it was the first step toward becoming part of something greater.

NEW TERM RESOLUTIONS—LET'S LEVEL UP!

With a new term underway, UTE encouraged all students to reflect, set new goals, and level up—academically, personally, and socially. Whether it's improving academic performance, joining a club, or taking the initiative to lead, UTE believes growth is built through consistent effort and the willingness to learn.

The “New Term Resolutions” campaign reminded students that success is not defined by perfection, but by progress. Every small improvement counts, and every challenge faced is a step closer to excellence. At UTE, learning goes beyond textbooks—it's about building habits, courage, and confidence for life.

LEVEL UP YOUR ENGLISH WITH UTE!

UTE also launched an empowering opportunity through its English for Academic Success (EAS) program—offering a 50% tuition discount for new applicants. This program is designed for students who wish to strengthen their English proficiency and boost their chances for scholarships and academic success.

Through the EAS course, students learn to communicate effectively in academic settings, gain confidence, and open doors to global education opportunities. The program reflects UTE's ongoing commitment to supporting learners at every stage of their journey.
